

Transect total cover, by species in and not in trait dataset, first hit only

Considering top hit only doesn't seem to improve transect cover captured by trait species

